Dear Jardon and Webb Families,

We've had another exciting week at Jardon! Our students continue to build independence and valuable life skills through community-based instruction, hands-on learning, and our returning cooking class with Chartwells! We are so proud of their efforts and accomplishments!

Please make sure you read to the bottom of the newsletter regarding a potential exposure to chickenpox. A letter should be coming home with your student today but I wanted to include it here as well because I know sometimes everything doesn't make it to you!

Mark your calendars for Parent Teacher Conferences on October 22. We look forward to connecting with families and celebrating your student's progress together. Please try to schedule an in-person meeting with your child's teaching team.

As always, please don't hesitate to reach out with questions, concerns, or celebrations. We love hearing about the successes our students are having both at school and at home.

And don't forget to follow Jardon Vocational School on Facebook for regular updates, pictures, and celebrations of the amazing things happening at Jardon!

In Partnership,

Heidi Kunz

Cooking Class is back! Chartwells has returned to Jardon with a weekly cooking class for our students. During this work rotation, several students will have the opportunity to participate in a cooking class on Tuesday afternoons. Chartwells staff is teaching cooking and baking basics, how to use measurement tools, reading and following recipes, and understanding portions. This week, students made pigs in a blanket and mac and cheese. Yum!

We are so thankful to Chartwells for bringing back this opportunity to our students and we look forward to including more students throughout the school year! Here are some pictures of our students in action:

Dear Parent/Guardian,

We are writing to inform you that an individual at Jardon Vocational School has been diagnosed with an illness that may involve exposure to the chickenpox virus. We are sharing this information so families are aware of the potential exposure and can take any necessary precautions.

The exposure occurred on Friday, October 9. Chickenpox is a highly contagious viral illness that can occur 10-21 days, generally 14-16 days, after exposure to an individual with the virus. The illness generally starts with a slight fever, followed by a blister-like, itchy rash.

Please watch your child for any symptoms of chickenpox over the next several weeks. If your child develops chickenpox, they should be kept home until the rash has crusted over (usually about five days) and you should contact your physician for evaluation and testing as well as notify the school. Quick identification of suspected cases can reduce any further exposure within our school and encourages timely medical evaluation and treatment.

By Michigan law, all students are required to be immunized with two doses of Varicella (VAR) vaccine or have a history of chickenpox. If your child is fully vaccinated or has a previous documented medical diagnosis of chickenpox, please make sure you have provided documentation of immunity to Jardon School so it may be included in their health record.

If additional cases occur within the school, exclusion policies may be enforced. Exclusions are not currently being enforced.

The following can help prevent your child's exclusion in the event of another case:

- Review your child's vaccination/medical history to ensure they have received two doses of Varicella (chickenpox) vaccine or have previously had chickenpox. Ensure documentation is on file at school.
- If your child is not currently vaccinated or is not up-to-date and still needs a second dose of Varicella vaccine, have them vaccinated.

Children are not at risk of exclusion if they have received two doses of Varicella vaccine or their first dose of vaccine was given within 1 month of exposure to someone with chickenpox. If your child has only received one dose of Varicella vaccine and it has been over 1 month since they received the first dose they may be at risk of school exclusion.

Additional information from the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) can be found at <http://www.cdc.gov/chickenpox/index.html>.

If you have any questions, please feel free to contact the school, or the OCHD Nurse on Call at (800) 848-5533.

Sincerely,

Heidi Kunz
